

The BOWLERS

... IN THE NEXT ALLEY!

Anyone who has ever laced on a pair of bowling shoes has experienced meeting these character types and situations sketched by artist Dick Hodgins, Jr. We'd advise the bowler who reads this to clip it and write in, on the dotted line provided, the name of a friend or team member who best resembles the cartoon. Do it now, before the next visit to the alley, because you're likely to find your name on the clipping brought in by someone else.

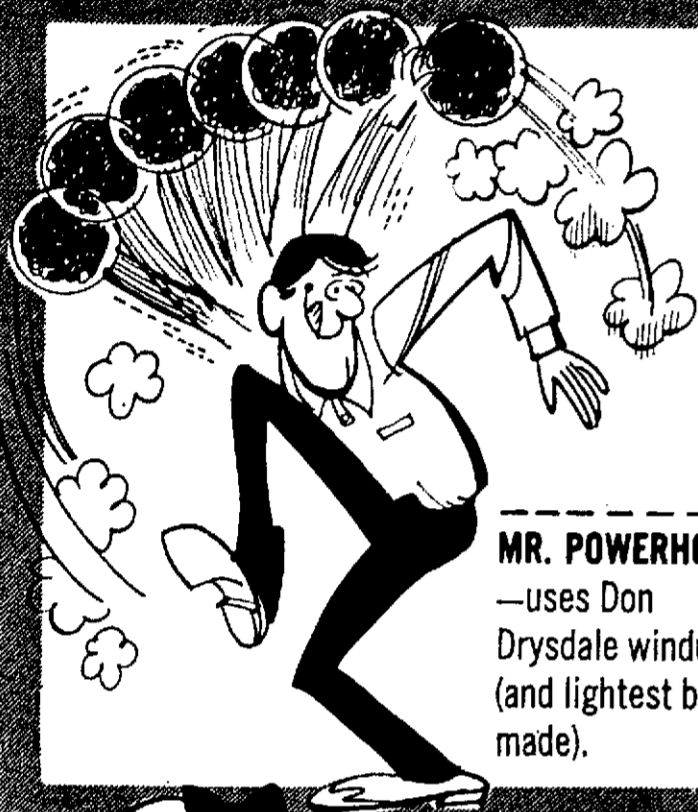

Dick Hodgins, Jr.
—as seen by Dick Hodgins, Jr. He draws a good game!

MR. DIVE BOMBER

—somehow he scores a 130 average. The alley owner and other players, meanwhile, are gulping aspirins.

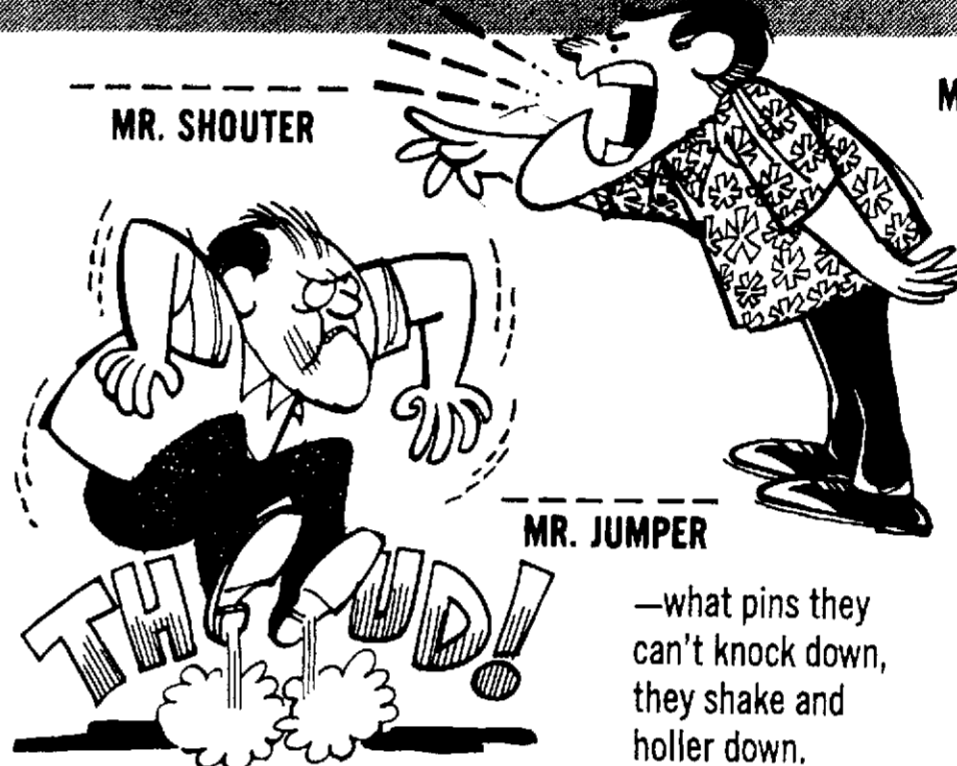

MR. POWERHOUSE

—uses Don Drysdale windup (and lightest ball made).

MR. AFFABLE

MR. SHOUTER

MR. JUMPER

—what pins they can't knock down, they shake and holler down.

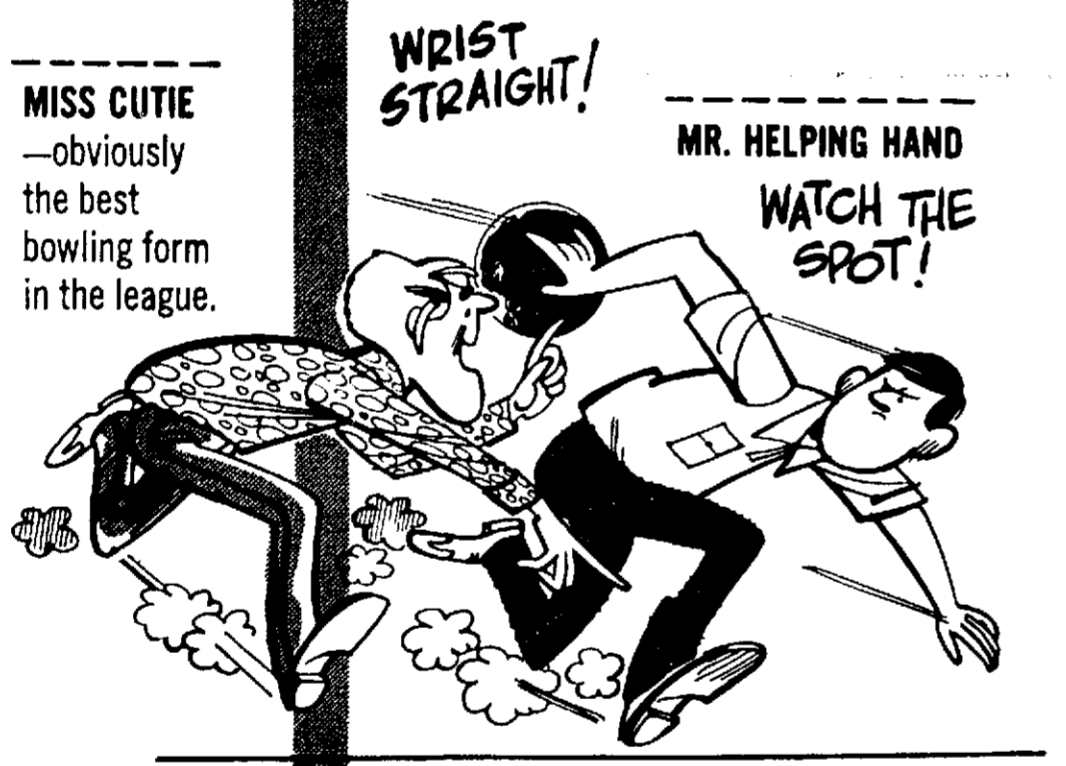

MR. TIPTOE

—hopes a TV talent scout for the bowling show is somewhere in the house.

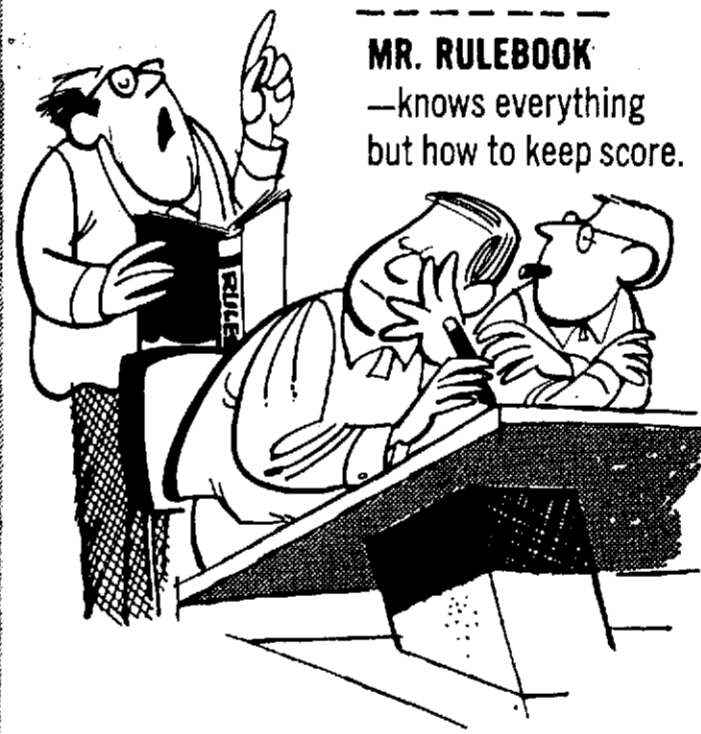

MISS CUTIE

—obviously the best bowling form in the league.

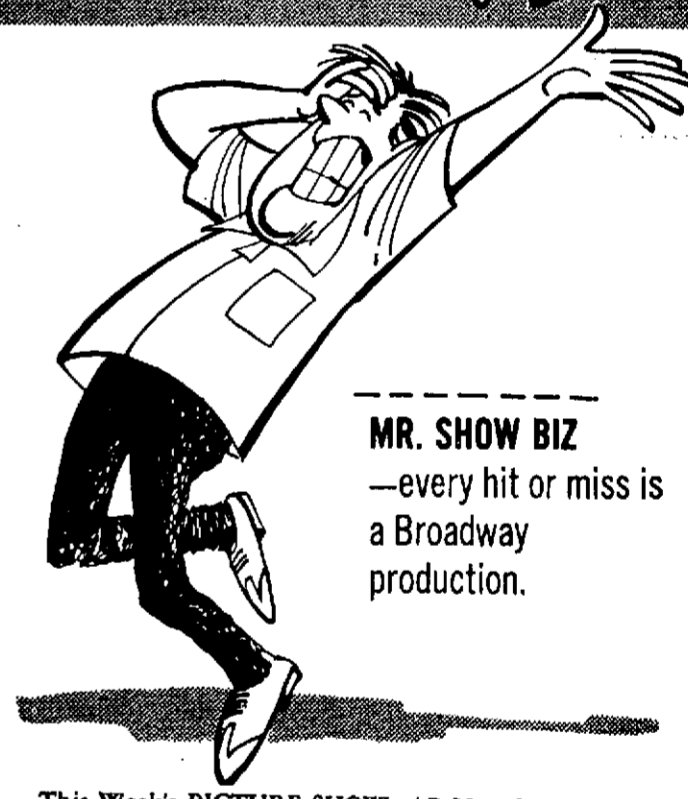

MR. HELPING HAND

MR. RULEBOOK

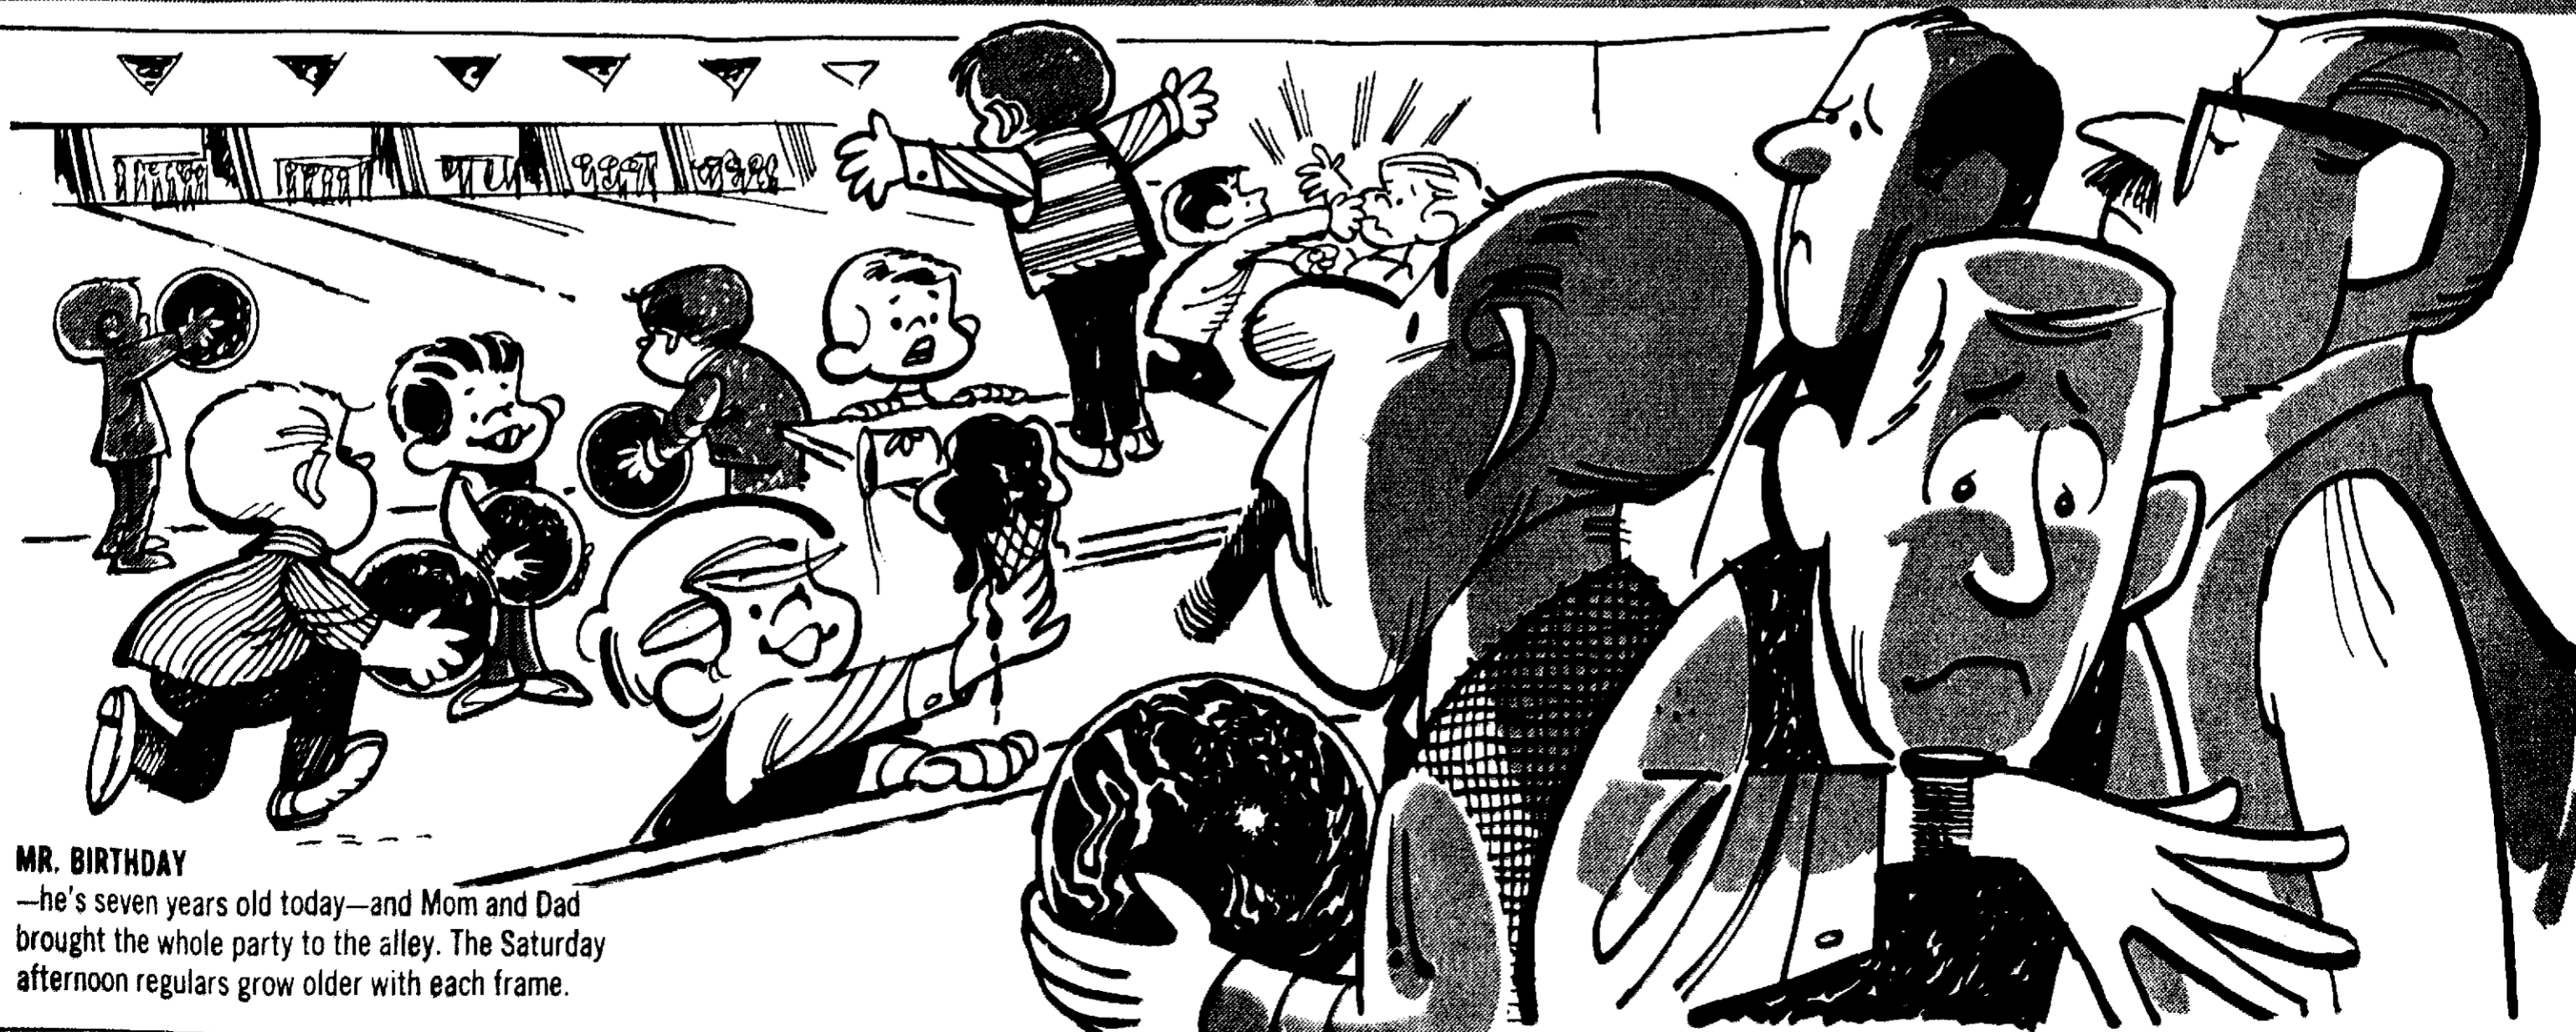

—knows everything but how to keep score.

MR. SHOW BIZ

—every hit or miss is a Broadway production.

This Week's PICTURE SHOW—AP Newsfeatures.

MR. BIRTHDAY

—he's seven years old today—and Mom and Dad brought the whole party to the alley. The Saturday afternoon regulars grow older with each frame.

Dear Helen: Ever since you told us how to make Pigmy-tracks in the dust on cars, I've figured you were a good-type teen columnist, so I'm bringing all my business to you.

Right now I want to know a good, safe practical joke, sort of, to open a party with. Something that will get the gang laughing. Of course you know "parlor games" are out, except for little kids and adults. - IN NEED OF A GAG

Dear INOAG: How about the ink bottle caper?

You'll need an empty flexible plastic detergent bottle with a snip-off pointed tip. Unscrew the lid and feed into its opening a bright-colored (or black) strand of yarn, about a yard long. Knot both ends so that it won't escape. Then feed the yarn down into the bottle and screw on the lid, with only the little knot showing.

When a guest arrives, tell him, "Hey, grab this crazy new ink I just made!" Flash the bottle under his nose and squeeze hard. Out shoots the yarn looking anything but! The way people yell and duck to avoid the stream of "ink" gets a party up and going fast.

... And thanks for the compliment, sort of ... Arh, the irony of it all: I beat my skull sideways being "helpful," and all you remember are the gags. (Like our No. 2 son says, "I buy you books and I buy you books, but you only eat the covers!" - whatever that means.)

P.S. For the curious who will ask "How do you make Pigmy-tracks?" - all you need is dust

Importance of Preparing Fish Demonstrated

By TOMMY YATES

Associated Press Writer

Sen. J. William Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who is considered a "dove" and fights like a "hawk," recently was seen wearing a birdlike configuration.

It was a small golden lapel button which he wore during his visit to Northwest Arkansas.

The configuration was actually a swan, but many of those who spotted the object simply couldn't resist a moment of fun. They asked, "Is that a dove you're wearing, senator?"

The question itself probably didn't raise many eyebrows, but undoubtedly, it was the accompanying grins and winks of the eyes which provoked imaginative thoughts.

Allen Gilbert Jr., in his column in the Fayetteville Northwest Arkansas Times, said it obviously wasn't a configuration of a hawk.

The hawk and dove terminology, if your memory fails, is for those who have taken respective sides over the Vietnam war. Fulbright has been one of the most persistent critics of the war and President Johnson's policies.

In his column, Gilbert suggested that a company should offer the general public a small golden dove and hawk for lapel and identification purposes.

If someone does this, Gilbert suggested that a few chicken buttons be provided as well. "I mean the chicken business is getting bigger all the time," he wrote.

It would have been spicy, too, if someone had asked the senator if the configuration was an LBJ "bird."

Gilbert also told of a tourist promotion plan presented by Jim Walters, president of the Bentonville Chamber of Commerce.

Walters proposes to advertise the advantages of Northwest Arkansas on billboards eventually throughout a 400-600 mile radius.

Walters made a quick sale of his program to the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. "One thing I liked was the price," said committee chairman Ellis Shelton.

Walters, who is in the printing business, said the scheme would cost the Fayetteville chamber nothing.

Extension Homemakers see demonstrations on cooking fish at County meeting May 4, at Experiment Station Building. Mrs. Bonnie Smith, Home Service Counselor, Southwestern Electric Power Company, DeQueen, displays prepared catfish and says its 'quick and easy'. She said that fish is too often overcooked and that this makes fish dry and chewy. Mrs. Smith suggested just enough cooking to enable the flesh to be flaked easily from the bones will leave the fish moist and tender and bring out its delicate flavor. She advised handling as little as possible during cooking as fish flesh is tender and delicate. If frying, turn only once and slip carefully on to serving plate to retain attractive appearance.

Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, encouraged homemakers to serve fish more often because of high nutritive content, ease of preparation, and its economical. She described fish as being an excellent source of protein, many valuable minerals, essential B vitamins, Vitamin A and D. The home economist said fish was recommended in many diets because it is 85-95 percent digestible, a source of polyunsaturated fats, low in sodium content and a low calorie protein.

Miss McBride commented there was little waste to fish and recommended about 1-3 to 1-2 pound of edible portion of fish per person as adequate servings. A pound per person was recommended as adequate if whole fish were purchased.

Reference was made to a display borrowed from A&P Grocery of the variety of fish products now available to the consumer.

The homemakers were advised to chill fish after catching and freeze promptly since stale odors and flavors develop rapidly if held at warm temperatures and fish deteriorates quickly. Frozen fish dry out easily and special care was encouraged in packaging.

If someone does this, Gilbert suggested that a few chicken buttons be provided as well. "I mean the chicken business is getting bigger all the time," he wrote.

It would have been spicy, too, if someone had asked the senator if the configuration was an LBJ "bird."

Gilbert also told of a tourist promotion plan presented by Jim Walters, president of the Bentonville Chamber of Commerce.

Walters proposes to advertise the advantages of Northwest Arkansas on billboards eventually throughout a 400-600 mile radius.

Walters made a quick sale of his program to the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. "One thing I liked was the price," said committee chairman Ellis Shelton.

Walters, who is in the printing business, said the scheme would cost the Fayetteville chamber nothing.

Extension Homemakers see demonstrations on cooking fish at County meeting May 4, at Experiment Station Building. Mrs. Bonnie Smith, Home Service Counselor, Southwestern Electric Power Company, DeQueen, displays prepared catfish and says its 'quick and easy'. She said that fish is too often overcooked and that this makes fish dry and chewy. Mrs. Smith suggested just enough cooking to enable the flesh to be flaked easily from the bones will leave the fish moist and tender and bring out its delicate flavor. She advised handling as little as possible during cooking as fish flesh is tender and delicate. If frying, turn only once and slip carefully on to serving plate to retain attractive appearance.

Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, encouraged homemakers to serve fish more often because of high nutritive content, ease of preparation, and its economical. She described fish as being an excellent source of protein, many valuable minerals, essential B vitamins, Vitamin A and D. The home economist said fish was recommended in many diets because it is 85-95 percent digestible, a source of polyunsaturated fats, low in sodium content and a low calorie protein.

Miss McBride commented there was little waste to fish and recommended about 1-3 to 1-2 pound of edible portion of fish per person as adequate servings. A pound per person was recommended as adequate if whole fish were purchased.

Reference was made to a display borrowed from A&P Grocery of the variety of fish products now available to the consumer.

The homemakers were advised to chill fish after catching and freeze promptly since stale odors and flavors develop rapidly if held at warm temperatures and fish deteriorates quickly. Frozen fish dry out easily and special care was encouraged in packaging.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

POP-UP INK IS GOOD PARTY OPENER

Dear Helen: Ever since you told us how to make Pigmy-tracks in the dust on cars, I've figured you were a good-type teen columnist, so I'm bringing all my business to you.

Right now I want to know a good, safe practical joke, sort of, to open a party with. Something that will get the gang laughing. Of course you know "parlor games" are out, except for little kids and adults. - IN NEED OF A GAG

Dear INOAG: How about the ink bottle caper?

You'll need an empty flexible plastic detergent bottle with a snip-off pointed tip. Unscrew the lid and feed into its opening a bright-colored (or black) strand of yarn, about a yard long. Knot both ends so that it won't escape. Then feed the yarn down into the bottle and screw on the lid, with only the little knot showing.

When a guest arrives, tell him, "Hey, grab this crazy new ink I just made!" Flash the bottle under his nose and squeeze hard. Out shoots the yarn looking anything but! The way people yell and duck to avoid the stream of "ink" gets a party up and going fast.

... And thanks for the compliment, sort of ... Arh, the irony of it all: I beat my skull sideways being "helpful," and all you remember are the gags. (Like our No. 2 son says, "I buy you books and I buy you books, but you only eat the covers!" - whatever that means.)

P.S. For the curious who will ask "How do you make Pigmy-tracks?" - all you need is dust

Importance of Preparing Fish Demonstrated

By TOMMY YATES

Associated Press Writer

Sen. J. William Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who is considered a "dove" and fights like a "hawk," recently was seen wearing a birdlike configuration.

It was a small golden lapel button which he wore during his visit to Northwest Arkansas.

The configuration was actually a swan, but many of those who spotted the object simply couldn't resist a moment of fun. They asked, "Is that a dove you're wearing, senator?"

The question itself probably didn't raise many eyebrows, but undoubtedly, it was the accompanying grins and winks of the eyes which provoked imaginative thoughts.

Allen Gilbert Jr., in his column in the Fayetteville Northwest Arkansas Times, said it obviously wasn't a configuration of a hawk.

The hawk and dove terminology, if your memory fails, is for those who have taken respective sides over the Vietnam war. Fulbright has been one of the most persistent critics of the war and President Johnson's policies.

In his column, Gilbert suggested that a company should offer the general public a small golden dove and hawk for lapel and identification purposes.

If someone does this, Gilbert suggested that a few chicken buttons be provided as well. "I mean the chicken business is getting bigger all the time," he wrote.

It would have been spicy, too, if someone had asked

"GEORGY GIRL"

James Mason helps Lynn Redgrave as "Georgy Girl" to buy nursery new-baby equipment for her room-mat's infant daughter, in this scene from the contemporary romantic comedy released by Columbia Pictures. Also starred in "Georgy Girl" are Alan Bates and Charlotte Rampling.

Peace Corps Cows, Owner in Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Margaret Hansen and her Holsteins hit Nigeria Tuesday after two weeks at sea. Miss Hansen, 43, quit dairy farming in Middletown, N.Y., to make her second tour in Africa with the Peace Corps. "I am nothing like the Peace Corps image," she said aboard the freighter African Lightning which carried her 109 heifers from Vermont, New York and Connecticut. They left New York City April 24. She will accompany the cattle to Keneke in western Nigeria, about 50 miles north of Lagos and plans to spend at least two years helping to breed her charges, all yearlings. Saturday is the only day in the week named for a Roman god. It was named in honor of the freighter African Lightning Saturn.

Except The LORD Build The HOUSE They Labor In Vain That Build It

Her Day

HAVE
IN GOD

— Mother's Day. The world voted a day in her honor and Heaven was glad. It is a meager tribute that we should pause once a year... the second Sunday in May... to do her honor. She gave you life and love but what have you given her? Life will not change her love nor will death conquer it. She is the soaring cloud of radiant rapture that lifts us to new attempts and the strength we need to see us through. Her God would be pleased to see her in church this Mother's Day... won't you take her to God's House?

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are holding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday, "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Too often we are inclined to think that anybody who spends a dollar for advertising does it from a purely selfish standpoint. But here, public-spirited, God-worshiping people, are paying each week to insert in this paper a full page, from which they will draw no quick response nor prompt sale. These people are good and humble business men — We owe them our gratitude.

American generosity has been keeping pace with the expanding American economy. Total philanthropy reached an all-time high of $13,576,000,000 in 1966. By far the greatest single source was the individual giver. Religion remains the greatest single organized force for philanthropy, but the sharpest increase in contributions has been registered in the health field.

Soviet Jazz Comes Into Its Own

By FRED COLEMAN
TALLIN, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Five years ago the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda denounced jazz as "screamed out hysterical notes" sounding like "a streetcar racing around corners."
Four years ago, Nikita Khrushchev said jazz was "the kind of music that gives you a feeling of nausea and a pain in the stomach."
Three years ago denunciations of jazz as a corrupting, bourgeois influence were still heard. But Soviet youths kept playing it anyway, often in secret.
Two years ago they finally won official approval of jazz.
Tonight, Soviet jazz comes of age with the opening of "the first world jazz festival in the Soviet Union" — as the Soviet press describes it — in this capital of Soviet Estonia on the Baltic Sea.
It is expected to run four days and to include performances by jazz combos from the United States, Britain, Sweden, Finland, Eastern Europe and cities throughout the Soviet Union.
Although the program is still unpublished, the Charles Lloyd quartet from the United States and Monty Sunshine's combo from Britain are among those expected to perform.
Also expected is Willis Conover, heard here for a decade on the Voice of America introducing jazz numbers on his "Music USA" program.
It was largely from the Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Corporation that Soviet jazz buffs got their start. With Western jazz records, sheet music and technique

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY AT SAENGER

A scream in the night brings co-stars Don Ameche and Susan Gordon face to face with the most terrifying experience of their lives in this scene from "Picture Mommy Dead." An Embassy Pictures release, it also stars Martha Hyer and Zsa Zsa Gabor.
Also expected is Willis Conover, heard here for a decade on the Voice of America introducing jazz numbers on his "Music USA" program.
It was largely from the Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Corporation that Soviet jazz buffs got their start. With Western jazz records, sheet music and technique

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

SPANISH TRADITIONAL house has living interest at every turn. A high, angled-headed window reaches the roof. Circle-headed entrance doors of heavy wood lead to the 14 by 20 private court. The court is roofed but has open rafters along the arched wall at right. Another set of double doors enters the atrium which has a roof opening for light, a reflecting pool and wrought iron grill. A left turn leads into the reception hall which gives into the slanted-ceiling living room, dining room and bedroom hall. The dining room wall facing the atrium is glass, sliding doors, for view and access. The service area is efficient with covered porch, two entrances to the garage, stairs to the basement, laundry, and corner closet. Architect for HA498M is Rudolph Matern, 89 E. Jerich, Tampa, Fla. 33614, N.Y. 11501. It contains 1,726 square feet.

Morris and Helen Portugal of Los Angeles are both great players in their own right. They don't play together often but when they do they are one of the strongest mixed pairs in the world.

In today's hand they collaborated on a brilliant defense that managed to defeat an almost iron-clad contract.

The play started normally enough with the lead of the jack of diamonds. South won with dummy's ace and cashed his ace and king of trumps. Then he discarded a spade on his king of diamonds and threw Morris, who sat West, on lead with the queen of trumps.

His first thought was to lead a spade. Had he done so South would have escaped without loss of a spade trick.

His second thought was to lead the ace of clubs and hope to catch Helen with the king. He gave that plan up, also. That would set up three club tricks in dummy.

Finally he came up with the winning defense. He led his five of clubs!

The deuce was played from dummy and it became Helen's turn to study the hand. It looked like suicide to play her king. Whoever underled an ace through a dummy that held five of a suit to the queen-jack? Who ever led any card in a suit when dummy held five to the queen-jack?

Helen knew that her husband was not accustomed to making bad plays at any time. Then why did he lead a club? He wanted to get her on lead. Why? So she could lead a spade through declarer!

Helen put up her king of clubs. It held and she led the spade. Down one!

If you don't think it was good defense we can tell you

Marichal Gets 5th Straight and Fans 9

Associated Press Sports Writer
San Francisco's limping Giants have come up with a formula for shedding those second-division blues.

Now if Herman Franks can just figure out a way to pitch Juan Marichal four times a week, the Giants will be sitting pretty.

Marichal, a spring training
holdout, hurled his fifth straight complete game victory Friday night, whipping Houston 6-1.
Willie Mays and Tom Haller provided the power with long home runs.

For the Giants to try to win
without Marichal is like a car
trying to run on three wheels.
Franks found that out the hard way in the first two weeks of the season when Juan dropped his first three starts and San Francisco sunk to the cellar.

But the ace right-hander has regained his rhythm and now all Franks has to do is get two or three other pitchers in tune with Juan.

Mays, of course, is a one-man band. Willie's third home run of the season and No. 545 of his career came in the seventh inning with two men on and gave Marichal a comfortable working margin.

Haller, on a tear with nine hits in 12 at bats, had given the Giants the early lead in the fourth but consecutive singles
by Joe Morgan, Sonny Jackson and Jim Wynn tied it in the sixth.

Marichal finished with a sevenhit and struck out nine. He retired the first 11 batters he faced.

In other National League
games Friday night, St. Louis rallied with five runs in the eighth inning for a 7-5 victory over New York. Pittsburgh downed Atlanta 5-2, Cincinnati dropped Philadelphia 4-2 and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 2-1.

In the American League, Baltimore bombed New York 14-0,
Cleveland whacked Washington
12-5, Detroit nipped Boston 5-4,
Chicago blanked California 1-0
and Kansas City edged Minnesota 2-1.

The Mets carried a 5-2 lead
into the eighth inning against St.
Louis but Mike Shannon's bloop
single climaxed the Cards' comeback.

Julian Javier and Dave Ricketts opened with singles and after a force play produced one run. Singles by Lou Brock and Curt Flood, a double by Roger Maris and an intentional walk to Orlando Cepeda tied the game and left the bases loaded for Shannon's winning hit.

Jerry Buchek homered for the Mets.

Don Pavletich drove in three runs with a double and single as Sammy Ellis' five-hitter beat the Phillies for the Reds.

Ellis, a 20-game winner in 1965 but 12-19 last year, used an unorthodox rocking windup and liked it so much that he'll stay with it for awhile.

"The way it went tonight," he said, "I might use that windup
for a long time."

Matty Alou and Roberto Clemente rapped third-inning home runs for the Pirates and Billy O'- Dell won his third straight. O'- Dell, who was stricken by Addison's disease during the winter,
allowed Atlanta just four hits
before leaving for reliever Elroy Face in the eighth.

Curt Simmons scattered eight hits against the Dodgers and drove in Adolpho Phillips with the winning run in the fifth inning after Phillips had tripled.

NEWSMAN WALTER CRONKITE zooms along, enjoying what he calls the "exhilaration which never wears off" when he's behind the wheel of his car.

Soccer Buffs Worldwide in Controversy

By JOHN SMITH
Written For
The Associated Press
Soccer buffs world wide are currently embroiled in a controversy about the latest patterns
and styles of play.

Not too many years ago it was evident that each team would field a goalkeeper, two fullbacks, three halfbacks and five forwards. But like baseball and football, soccer strategy has become increasingly complex.

Fans nowadays talk about the advantages or disadvantages of "strikers," "sweepers," "stoppers," and "wingers." Forty years ago the center half was the key man in most teams as the offense and defense revolved around him. He simply played the "stopper" role by plugging the middle defense.

Now players interchange and cover territory everywhere on the field with their deployment determining a team's style.

Every team has a goalkeeper.
The remaining players deploy on a defensive or offensive formation perhaps on a 3-2-5
basis, or a 4-2-4 or even a 4-3-3.

Much of soccer's tremendous appeal stems from its international potential of different styles of play. And Commissioner Mackey's 10-team NPSL
combines the talents of players representing 36 countries.

The Brazilians popularized
the 4-2-4 tactical play in time to win the 1958 World Cup. It was simply a matter of one of the two wing halfbacks dropping back to make a four man defense. One of the inside forwards dropped back as a mid-field linkman joining the remaining halfback.

Italy developed a 1-4-2-3 lineup with a free back (sweeper) placing himself in the rear of the four-man fullback wall. As a sweeper he moves across the field retrieving any loose passes that get through the defensive unit. Goals come at premium and it isn't attractive for the offensive minded spectator.

Nowadays the most common system developed by England in winning the World Cup last year is the 4-3-3 which relies on another forward back and using him as a midfield linking man. It allows for a six-man attack or a seven-man defense.

Traditionally the four defensive backs are the bigger, less speedy men with the essential attribute of a long, accurate upfield kick. They stop all attacks on goal and try to get the ball downfield so their team can start an offensive maneuver.

The middle three men act as linkmen bridging the gap between offense and defense. The forward line are the strikers with the primary mission of scoring goals. They are the best dribblers, best passers, and best "headers" (using one's forehead to propel and direct a ball).

The "winger" is still another popular term in modern soccer.
He is either an outside left or an outside right forward playing on the flank. He plays the role of playmaker using his speed, dribbling and passing ability to set up scoring opportunities.

SHAVING STROKES

Top of the Swing

By FRANK BEARD
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The top of the swing generally goes unnoticed because it is in motion and only lasts
for a fraction of a second.
However, it is as important as the rest of the swing and deserves equal consideration.

I use this phase of the swing for a double checkpoint.
It is an excellent indication of how the backswing was executed and if you are still in balance and ready to start the downswing.

First, let's check and see what a properly executed backswing results in at the top of the swing. The hands are carried high at approximately a 45-degree angle between the head and right shoulder with the left arm fully extended. You should feel as though you are a waiter carrying a tray over your shoulder in your right hand with the right palm turned skyward. The other areas to be checked are the shoulders and the hips.

The shoulders are fully turned under the chin in a vertical move—this is very important because there is a tendency for them to move in a circular or horizontal way if not checked. As for the hips, at the top they are fully turned 180 degrees away from the target—no lateral movement
at all.

The weight is shifted slightly to the right on the inside of the right foot. The left heel has raised only a bit off the ground and the left knee is turned in to the right very lightly.

These positions can vary with each individual according to his size and feeling of comfort.

AT THE TOP of the back-swing, the hips are fully turned 180 degrees away from the target.

Even in the gentle days
when croquet was all the rage, mothers were warning their daughters of men and their wicked ways.

Veterans Among the Baseball Cut

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Veteran pitchers hurling shutout baseball and veteran hitters batting over .300 were among the cut-down casualties, but the biggest sparks may fly from the optioning of a rookie hitting
.194.

He is first baseman Mike Epstein, touted as a future superstar, optioned by Baltimore to their Rochester farm club before Wednesday night's major league deadline to reach the 25-player limit.

"Mike said he was very disappointed and might not report to Rochester," said Oriole Manager Hank Bauer.

Epstein, 24, the minor league
Player of the Year at Rochester last season, declined comment
after meeting with Bauer and Harry Dalton, Baltimore
director of player personnel.

"I pointed out the opportunities to him," Dalton said,
"but it's his career and it's his decision."

Among those once highly publicized veterans to get pink slips
were Ralph Terry, Bill Monbouquette, Gordy Coleman, Manny
Jimenez and Bob Buhl.

Atlanta hospitalized ace right-hander Tony Cloninger, 1-1, for an indefinite period. The former 20-game winner, who has not pitched since April 26 because of a pulled back muscle and a virus infection, is suffering from an eye problem.

The Los Angeles Dodgers
traded infielder John Werhas to the California Angels for outfielder Len Gabrielson and the New York Mets purchased third baseman Ed Charles from Kansas City for $60,000 and minor league outfielder Larry Elliot. The Mets also bought utility infielder Bob Johnson and pitcher John Miller from Baltimore.

Epstein was unable to beat out Boog Powell at first base with the Orioles and Curt Blefary in the outfield, and Baltimore was unable to trade him when other teams would not meet its price.
He had only two singles in 13 at bats.

"If he fails to report," Dalton said, "He'll be placed on the inactive list."

Terry, 31, a 10-year veteran who starred for the New York Yankees in the 1962 World Series, was given his unconditional release by the New York Mets
although he did not allow a run in two relief appearances of 3 1-3 innings.

Detroit placed Monbouquette
on waivers when he refused to report to the minors. He owns a no-hit game in 1962 with the Boston Red Sox during his nine-year career and won 20 games for the Sox in 1963.

Coleman, 32, a first baseman, was optioned to Buffalo after seven years with Cincinnati. He helped the Reds to the pennant
in 1961 when he hit .287, had 26
homers and 87 runs batted in.

Jimenez, 28, a sensation with Kansas City in 1962 when he led the league part of the season,
was returned to the minors by Pittsburgh despite his homer and double in six at-bats.

Between You'n' Me

by MURRAY OLDERMAN
SPORTS EDITOR
NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSOCIATION

Taylor's 'Deal' Inflated

The $100,000 four-year deal Jimmy Taylor was supposed to be angling for from the New Orleans Saints was all a lot of propaganda. Even with Washington and Atlanta kicking in to compete against the Saints for the Green Bay fullback who played out his option, the bidding was more like half the speculated figure, and for two years. I get it on the best possible authority—owner John Mecom of the Saints. . . .

Incidentally, during Taylor's entire 1967 season with the Packers, right through the Super Bowl, coach Vince Lombardi, knowing he was playing out his contract, never once addressed him as "Jimmy" or even "Taylor."

Cus D'Amato, the erstwhile Svengali of Floyd Patterson, has broken with another of his ex-champions.
He won't be working the corner of Jose Torres, the former light-heavy king,
any longer. Not that Jose doesn't appreciate Cus'
help. It's simply that Cus wanted Torres to get rid of Johnny Manzanet, his trainer, before the Dick Tiger return. And Jose
didn't want to dump Johnny, whom he'd brought up from Puerto Rico. So D'Amato stepped out of the picture—just as he vanished when it became clear Patterson
didn't want him around.
The difference now is that Torres and Cus are still friendly, and Jose consults
his old tutor on the sly. . . .

A note from Enzo Fiermonte, the old Roman gladiator who married the heiress, and now is doing film work in Europe—
he was in "Grand Prix" and looks forward to more work
when they do a picture on Nino Benvenuti, the middleweight champ. . . .

Though Benvenuti is the rave of Italy, countryman
Enzo is a bit of a skeptic. "Emile Griffith," pens Enzo,
"he is not Stanley Ketchell or Harry Greb or Mickey Walker. He is a long way to be a fighter of that class.
Ketchell would have taken Griffith and Benvenuti the same night and kayoed both in a few rounds. And so would Walker."

Baron Adolph Rupp of Kentucky has a 6-11 Indianan named Steve Schmitt, and the initial poop makes him out a lulu. He has an allergy that required two shots daily during basketball season. He couldn't stand dust and mold, which you find in small high school gyms. Apparently, Kentucky's majestic Memorial Coliseum provides the antidote. . . .

If George Blanda and his prospective employers, the Oakland Raiders, can come to terms on what George is still worth to a pro football team, he has an idea he can still play quarterback, and they may fancy him only as a placekicker—he'll set an all-time record for longevity in pro ball—18 seasons. The Raiders waited until two minutes before the waiver deadline to claim George from the Houston Oilers. The only hitch in Blanda's football future (at age 40) is Mrs. Blanda. She doesn't want him to play. . . .

Beans Reardon, the old major league umpire, has a gold pass from the major leagues which would get him into any ball park in the country. But he still buys his own box seats for the Dodgers' and Angels' games in southern California and claims he has never gone into a park on a pass. . . .

Between you'n' me, if you still doubt TV's impact on sports, listen to how soccer happens to be getting the big push. Seems William S. Paley, the big boss at CBS, watched the World Cup match last summer (over a rival network) and said to his underlings, "That's what I want." So the National Professional Soccer League was born—which may be oversimplifying the case. . . .

Record Salaries Are Offered To Graduates

Job offers for college graduates have grown more attractive each year for the last several years. Reports from university placement offices across the South show that this year is no exception. The reports say more firms are interviewing those who will graduate this spring, the number of job openings is up and the salaries offered are up. Things could hardly be better for those planning to enter the business world.

Aero space firms are seeking the most employes, but they rank third in salaries offered. Chemicals and drugs are the largest employer seekers and the best paying. They offer an average of $715 a month to start. Electronics, the third largest employer, offers $713, and aero space $710. The average beginning salary for non-technical graduates is $611 per month, the first time it has crossed the $600 mark. The placement services term the swing to non-technical graduates, both in the number of jobs offered and the salaries offered, as the most dramatic change in the situation.

The statistics will likely make some of the old grads wonder about trying to get back to school to take that last semester over again. — Anderson (S. C.) Independent

Freedom To Agree

When Yugoslav writer Mihajlo Mihojlov was sentenced to four and one-half years in prison last week for spreading hostile propaganda against the Yugoslav Communist Party, the chief trial judge had this paradoxical comment:

"Thoughts are freely expressed in our country, but those that express hatred and an unconstitutional stand cannot be permitted freedom. We preserve the freedom of the press, but we safeguard against a misuse of the press so as to prevent the undermining of our system."

If we read the judicial logic correctly, those Yugoslavs who have nothing to complain about are free to speak their convictions. For dissidents, however, convictions may mean conviction. — Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times

Lost Cause

Members of President Johnson's special panel studying the U.S. postal system might turn, just for a moment, to Paragraph 7 of Section 8 of Article I of the Constitution of the Confederate States of America:

"The Congress shall have power . . . to establish post offices and post routes; but the expenses of the Post Office Department, after the first day of March in the year of our Lord 1863, shall be paid out of its own revenues."

Maybe that prospect contributed to the defeat of the Confederacy. — Columbia (S.C.) State

Roosters Are Motherly When Tipsy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scientist reported today that a single shot of alcohol induced charming, motherly behavior in some scrappy roosters who ordinarily are rough on baby chicks.

And they got slightly drunk in the process.

But the researcher offered no views on whether an occasional barnyard highball would inspire roosters to help out with the baby-sitting on a permanent basis.

Dr. Joseph K. Kovach of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan., said only that the experiment demonstrated that on the occasions when a rooster shows motherly instincts, it has nothing directly to do with his internal hormones.

Kovach described in the technical journal Science how five white Leghorn cocks who were each treated to a single dose of 33 per cent grain alcohol.

The birds all showed some minor motor coordination disturbances — a polite phrase for wobbly walking — even before they got down to the business at hand, he said.

Thoughts of Mother With Everyone, Some Are Happy, Some Sad

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

Thoughts of Mother are with everyone, but they differ as widely as the objects of those thoughts, person's musing on the subject.

Love, Laughter, and Red Roses

What she liked reminds us of Her hearty laugh and lots of love—
A sense of right and faith in God,
Modern dress, but never "mod."

The color blue and roses red,
Seeing friends, a flower bed,
Cooking, reading, dissecting a frog,
And, then, a Bob Hope monolog.

To write some letters and to talk
Or hear "The Baby Elephant Walk"
Were pleasantries which she preferred
Any time that they occurred.

Her many friends and family
Sense her presence when they see
Or taste or feel or even hear
Such as this. Then, she is near.

Ex-Mrs. Burton Has a Baby

NEW YORK (AP) — Sybil Christopher, formerly married to Richard Burton and now the wife of musician Jordan Christopher, has given birth to a daughter.

The baby, named Amy, weighed 5 pounds, 13 ounces at birth Thursday.

The Christophers, married about two years ago, have three other children from their previous marriages. Mrs. Christopher, 37, has two from her marriage to Burton, and Christopher, 25, one from a former marriage.

Wife of Bills' Owner Asks Divorce
DETROIT (AP) — Janet M. Wilson, wife of Ralph C. Wilson who owns the American Football League Buffalo Bills, has sued for divorce and demanded a $10-million property settlement.

The complaint Thursday charging extreme cruelty said Wilson has established a standard of living which could "best be described as luxurious."

Wayne (Detroit) County Circuit Judge Nathan J. Kaufman issued a restraining order preventing Wilson from selling or transferring his holdings until a hearing Tuesday.

Gold Telephone for Romney

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A $600-gold-plated telephone will be installed in Gov. George Romney's Bloomfield Hills home.

Romney, a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968, received the special phone Thursday from the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., as he participated in a celebration marking installation of the 100 millionth telephone in the United States.

Nine governors, members of the executive committee of the National Governors Conference, talked with President Johnson on a nationwide hookup marking the ceremony.

Ohio Gov. James Rhodes, a Republican, took note of the connection between Lansing and Washington.

"Well, Mr. President," he said, "I'm glad you and George have a direct dialogue."

Usually Folks Get a Medical Checkup But How About Head Check

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you normal or just a wee bit barmy? Many people get a regular dental and medical checkup, but never think of having their minds inspected. This is odd, because it is well known that one's mental outlook can materially affect one's physical welfare.

As the old saying goes, "It's all in the mind." It isn't always necessary, however, to go to a headshrinker and have him paw through your ID and ego to find out whether you are well, well, or sick, sick, sick. In many cases you can do it yourself.

Here, for example, is a series of questions which can help you determine your sanity quotient: When the alarm clock wakes you up on Monday morning, do you sometimes feel like just lying there in bed and crying until it is Tuesday?

Are you secretly convinced that half the people you meet nowadays don't know what they are talking about three-fourths of the time?

When a tank truck loaded with money goes by you in the street, do you idly wonder how you could rob it and get away with the loot?

If a pretty blonde at a cocktail party walks away from you to listen to somebody else, do you instantly decide that her neck is too scrawny or her legs are too big?

Have you bought at least one blue chip stock in the last 20 years that has gone down in value? If so, do you believe the guy you bought it from is either a fool or a fraud? Can you lose your head when those around you are keeping theirs?

As the years roll by, are you finding it more and more difficult to get the tops off ketchup bottles?

Do you still prefer martinis to LSD or other forms of psychedelic drugs?

Are you finding it harder to sleep at night but easier to doze off while watching a television program on which prominent people discuss the so-called vital issues of the day?

Do you spend more time figuring how you'll be able to get by on your pension than you do thinking up ways you can get rich?

When someone tells you a new joke, does it remind you of two just like it you heard from your barber 15 years before?

Well, now it's look at your box score. If you answered "yes" to all the foregoing questions, put your mind at ease. You are normal as you need be, as sane as everyone else.

To put it bluntly, you're as sound as a nut.

Rockefellers and Brotherhood

NEW YORK (AP) — Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas have appeared in public together for the first time since Winthrop was elected.

They were among 1,100 guests Wednesday night at the Americana Hotel for the first annual Brotherhood-in-Action dinner.

Introducing Winthrop, Nelson quipped, "This is really brotherhood in action."

3,274 Residents of Hempstead Paid $2.1 Million $5 Benefits

$2,148,900 in social security benefits was paid to residents of Hempstead County last year, up approximately 3.5 percent from the year before.

At the end of 1966, 3,274 men, women and children were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $179,075. Otis A. Blackwood, social security district manager, reported today, 2,562 were older people receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died.

"But social security is not just for older people," Mr. Blackwood pointed out. Five hundred and forty two young widows and children in Hempstead County were receiving monthly benefits amounting to $22,615.00 at the end of December. One hundred and seventy disabled workers were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $14,854.

Practically every young family has survivors protection under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection.

Monthly payments to the family of a worker who dies, leaving 2 or more children, can range from $66 to $368 a month, depending on the worker's average earnings under social security.

Over a working lifetime of 45 years, ending with his retirement at 65 in the year 2019, a young worker who earned the at covered by social security every year would contribute a total of $10,318 toward his retirement protection. Adding interest, compounded at 3 1/2 percent, the value of the worker's contribution at age 65 would be $26,412. The value of the benefits payable to him and his wife in retirement, assuming average life expectancy, would be $32,853, 20 percent more than the value of his total social security contributions.

The article didn't appear in the New Republic until five days after the President met Miss Kearns at a reception for her and 14 other young people selected as White House fellows who will be government interns. He took a shine to her, it is said, and told her he wanted her as one of his aides.

The article suggested that a third party of liberals and radicals be formed which, while unable to elect its own presidential candidate, could take away enough votes from the Democrats to assure the election of a moderate Republican.

Miss Kearns, a graduate student at Harvard University who also teaches government courses there, wrote the piece with Stanford Levinson, also a Harvard graduate student.

Thousands Starving in India State

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — More starvation deaths were reported in the drought-stricken Bihar State of eastern India today and thousands of persons were leaving the state.

The state government added 10,400 square miles to its designated famine areas, which now include about 31.2 million of the state's 52.5 million people. The famine areas cover 39,800 of Bihar's 67,196 square miles.

The government says agricultural yields in these areas have dropped 25 per cent in the last two years. Thousands of persons have been lining up daily outside free kitchens opened by relief agencies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Can a bright, attractive girl find happiness as a White House aide by proposing the defeat of President Johnson?

Doris Kearns, 24, must face the question. The Rockville Centre, N.Y., girl co-authored a magazine article suggesting how Johnson can be ousted from the White House in the 1968 election.

The article didn't appear in the New Republic until five days after the President met Miss Kearns at a reception for her and 14 other young people selected as White House fellows who will be government interns. He took a shine to her, it is said, and told her he wanted her as one of his aides.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The major federal weapon in the effort to speed school desegregation in the South is a provision in the Civil Rights Act that authorizes the cutting off of funds for programs in which there is racial discrimination.

What the Southerners want is some language in the school aid bill that would make it more difficult for the government to reach the fund-cutting stage in school programs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For years now the issues in presidential elections have been individuals and not parties. It will be that way again unless the Republicans can make a case for themselves before the 1968 election.

The difference between the parties are getting blurred as the Republicans, finally looking at the clock, emerge from their intense conservatism of Franklin D. Roosevelt's time, even though they suffered a temporary relapse in 1964.

But they were already out of date in the New Deal days. And, as they moved closer to the Democratic view, which has been a slow jog forward, the issues between them and the Democrats diminished.

This has forced voters to choose more between men than parties.

In 1948, although the Republicans tried to ram him against the wall with their sneers, jeers and criticism, President Harry S. Truman through courage and aggressiveness beat New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey almost single-handedly.

By 1952 the country was sick of the mud-slinging, hatreds, divisions and uneasiness created by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and wanted political and mental peace. If the Republicans had chosen McCarthy as their candidate, or someone like him, there would have been a real issue in the campaign. But they didn't.

Who could better restore sanity than Dwight D. Eisenhower? Who could better settle the Korean War? His rival, Adlai E. Stevenson, compared with him, was an untried, political nobody. Stevenson never had a chance.

This was pretty much the same story in 1956 when Eisenhower beat Stevenson again except that by then McCarthy had been silenced and the Korean War was over. And the nation, which had recaptured its sanity, was doing all right. Why change?

3 Air Force Planes Down Near Hanoi

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — American airmen bombing within five miles of Hanoi met heavy fire from Red guns, missiles and jets Friday. Three U.S. Air Force planes were downed.

Military headquarters said practically every strike in the Hanoi area was jumped by Communist MIGs. One of the lost jets, a Phantom F4C, was downed by the Red's slower MIG-17.

The other two U.S. aircraft lost were slower Thunderchief jets—one lost to ground fire and the other to "unknown causes." Five airmen were listed as missing in action.

The toll brought to 539 the U.S. planes lost over North Vietnam. In aerial dogfights the MIGs have now downed 16 U.S. planes while losing 49 Red aircraft.

The intensified air war was matched by heavier ground fighting in South Vietnam, mainly along the 17th Parallel which divides Vietnam.

The most sensitive targets for the 126 strike missions flown Friday were a storage area four miles from downtown Hanoi and an army barracks an equal distance southwest of the capital.

Returning to their bases in Thailand, pilots reported both areas burning fiercely. Smoke was rising 1,500 feet over Hanoi's outskirts as the raiders winged off, they said.

Striking even deeper into North Vietnam, a Thunderchief strike plastered a SAM site 68 miles up the Red River Valley from Hanoi. Evidently the bombs hit a warhead storage area. Smoke was billowing 7,000 feet in the air after the raid, pilots said.

An Air Force spokesman said the MIGs attempted to disrupt practically every deep penetration mission by the Thunderchiefs.

The Republicans — with 187 members, of whom as many as 20 could defect — also need Southern votes to prevail. But their proposal, which would increase state control over school aid, has a strong appeal to the states rights-oriented Southerners and GOP leaders claim they have the votes to win right now.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 44th observance of National Music Week of the National Federation of Music Clubs ended on Friday with the appearance of the Nederland, Texas High School Band at the Hope High School, and the program at the Rotary Club by Mrs. Don Johnson, Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, and Mrs. Arthur Strech, Mrs. Sam Strong, president of the Friday Music Club gave high lights of the club's work for better music in Hope.

Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, chairman of Music Week festivities in Hope, reports that a total of thirteen programs were given with about 650 participating and a combined audience of 1500.

It is hoped that the enthusiasm for music displayed by those in attendance at the various programs will continue into the following week with a good reception for the performance of "The Marriage of Figaro" on May 21.

"Music is For Everyone" applies to the whole year, and not to just one week in May.

Much credit is due Mrs. Talbot Field, who is serving for the second year as State Chairman of Music Week. Mrs. Field reported at the recent meeting of the state federation that Arkansas clubs had received 62 awards for their programs last year. This was one of the best reports in the nation.
